

Sergeant Robin Polk began her tenure with the Tampa Police Department in 2010. Prior to her employment with Tampa, she was an officer with the Lakeland Police Department assigned to a community policing unit working street level narcotics and she was also a member of the Honor Guard.

Since coming to the Tampa Police Department, she has been assigned to all three districts in the city, serving as a Field Training Officer, street crimes officer, community police officer, violent crimes detective and the administrative Corporal of the Sex Crimes Unit. She is currently working as a patrol Sergeant, while also serving as an active member of the Social Media Team and as the Tampa Police Department's LGBT Liaison.

Robin has been recognized as the TPD Officer of the Month, District III Officer of the Month, Tampa Bay Lightning's Boldest of the Bay and was a Tampa Bay Business Journal "Business of Pride Honoree".

Sergeant Polk earned her Bachelor's Degree from Florida Southern College and shortly after, achieved her Master's Degree in Criminal Justice from Troy University. Robin is a proud member of the Coast Guard Reserve where she protects our ports and waterways in Maritime Law Enforcement.

Robin is married to Michele Polk and they have a 7 year old son, Reese.
